

Kenai National Wildlife Refuge Volunteer Program

Do you enjoy helping people, sharing your skills and contributing to wildlife conservation?

By volunteering through one of these three programs at the Kenai National Wildlife Refuge
YOU can make a difference!

- Community Volunteers assist with short-term refuge projects. Volunteers can work on trails, participate in biology programs, assist with environmental education programs, or help in the visitor center. Scouts, youth groups, and community organizations can Adopt-a-Trail, or participate in other large group projects.
- Student Conservation Association (SCA) Resource Assistants help in visitor center, backcountry and biology programs. After applying through SCA, interns commit to full-time, 12-16 week positions. There is also a 9-month conservation associate position that assists the environmental education program. All interns receive a round-trip travel grant to the Refuge, a weekly subsistence allowance, and free housing. For more information go to www.thesca.org.
- Campground Hosts welcome campers and provide information about Refuge activities and facilities. They help with fee collection and light campground work. In return, hosts receive free camping and a monthly subsistence allowance. Hosts are needed for a minimum of 16 weeks in the summer and need to provide their own RV and camping equipment.

Volunteers receive valuable training and experience working for the Kenai National Wildlife Refuge. Through service, volunteers develop new skills and feel a sense of accomplishments for their contributions. Volunteers receive special recognition for their contributions through awards and special events.
